IT IS ALL M'KINLEY

Other Candidates Seem To Have Been Forgotten at St. Louis.

DELEGATES AND LEADERS ASSEMBLING

The Ohio Man's Managers Say He Will Be Nominated on the First Ballot—Reed and Allison Men Talk of Second Ballot.

St. Louis, June 10.—St. Louis has already the appearance of a national convention city. The hotels are rapidly filling with visitors and every incoming train adds to the list of delegates and prominent republican leaders already here from all parts of the country. McKinley badges, lithographs, fans and buttons are to be seen at every turn. In truth, the fact that there is more than one candidate seems to be lost sight of on all sides and about the only points of contention are who will get second place and what the platform will say on finance. At the headquarters of the Ohio man it is confidently asserted that there will be one roll call in the convention and that will result in the nomination of Major McKinley. In discussing the interview of Mr. Filley, wherein he stated that a roll call must be completed before a nomination could be made, and proposed an informal ballot, Judge Thompson said: "I am familiar with the mode of procedure in national conventions, and I have never in my life heard of such a thing as an informal ballot. Mr. Filley is as sincere for McKinley as we are, but he should remember that we do not control the action of the delegates. If when some state like Pennsylvania, South Carolina or Texas is reached, and some delegate sees that McKinley has already received votes sufficient to nominate him, who is to say that a delegate has not the right to move that Major McKinley be nominated by acclamation? It was done at Minneapolis four years ago. When Texas was reached it was evident that Harrison had votes enough to nominate, and the vote was made unanimous. No one objected to it, and no one proposed an informal ballot."

Reed Men Talk of a Second Ballott.

The Reed men, the Allison men and in fact all other than McKinley men refuse to give a roster of their pledged delegates and refer vaguely to breaks on the second ballot. Lieutenants of the Ohio man answer this by saying there will be no second ballot. There was some nebulous gossip afloat this morning touching combinations to prolong the contest, but all efforts to resolve this to certainty met with the reply: "Wait until after Manley comes." The prominent arrivals last night included Joseph H. Manley of Maine; Chairman Thomas Carter of Montana; Isaac M. Potter, Rhode Island, and W. H. Hearst of California. Chairman Manley was visited this morning by scores of politicians, all eager to press claims of various sorts, but Mr. Manley pleaded fatigue and retired to his room.

The Vice-Presidency.

For vice-president a number of names have been mentioned, and the McKinley followers are sure Reed will be the man if he will accept the place. His friends, however, stoutly maintain that he will not. W. S. Manning of New York, an out-and-out McKinley man, was asked this morning who will be the candidate if Reed refuses. "Well, it should be a southern man," he said, "but I hardly believe one from that section will be able to secure it. H. Clay Evans should properly get the place, and the southern delegates want the place for him. The Indiana people are shouting for McAlpin, and the Jerseyites want Hobart. The nomination is an open one and the only interesting thing about the convention."

Hanna Arrives.

Although M. A. Hanna and other Ohio McKinley supporters were expected yesterday, they did not reach the city until this morning. Mr. Hanna came in on his private car accompanied by Senator Proctor, Abner McKinley, Gen. Osborne of Boston, Col. Myron T. Herrick and Sylvester T. Everett, delegates from the twenty-first Ohio district. Mr. Hanna was in the best of spirits and evidently he feels confident that there is no doubt of McKinley's nomination. In fact, he is reported to have said that the Ohio man's strength was so great that no scheme whatever could be sprung by his enemies or opponents that would have the least effect.

Says McKinley Is for Gold.

Ex-Congressman Thompson, manager pro tem of the McKinley forces, has given out his opinion of what will be the vital plank in the platform upon which Mr. McKinley expects to stand. "What will be McKinley's platform on the financial question?" asked a reporter of Mr. Thompson. "It will be for the single gold standard, pure and simple," he promptly replied. "And to be explicit," continued the Chisman, "I will add that the financial platform of Mr. McKinley always has been the antithesis of what is known as 16 to 1 silverism, and so it will be through the campaign."

Major McKinley's Plans.

Canton, O., June 10.—Major McKinley's private secretary James Boyle will leave to-day for Columbus, from whence he will go to St. Louis. Mrs. McKinley left last evening for Columbus to visit friends. Major McKinley will remain in Canton until after the convention. A private wire connects his residence with M. A. Hanna's room in the Southern hotel, St. Louis, and there will be constant communication between the two gentlemen.

SENATOR QUAY'S VIEWS.

He Believes McKinley Will Be Nominated on the First Ballot.

Beaver, Pa., June 10.—Senator Quay arrived here from Washington yesterday, and after a few hours spent at his home left last night for St. Louis. To a reporter he said there was every indication of a nomination being effected on the first ballot, and he believed McKinley would be the man. To the question as to whether he would withdraw as a candidate for the nomination, he laughingly replied that he was still a candidate. The senator said he did not know who would be nominated for vice-president, and when asked what Gov. Hastings' chances were, he replied that he did not know.

Another McKinley League in New York.

Binghamton, N. Y., June 10.—A meeting at which every town in Broome county was represented was held in Bennett hall in this city last evening, resulting in the formation of a McKinley league for Broome county. Resolutions were adopted declaring the sentiment of the meeting to be that a league, to be part of the state McKinley league, should be formed to advance the interests of Ohio's favorite son. A mass meeting was held at Stone opera house last night.

Depew Don't Want Second Place.

New York, June 10.—Chauncey M. Depew is greatly displeased at the mention of his name by several western gentlemen for the second place on the ticket with McKinley, or any one else who may be nominated at St. Louis for president. His secretary said that Mr. Depew was going to St Louis to present the name of Gov. Morton and aid him all he can and for no other reason.

Urged To Vote for McKinley.

Middletown, Conn., June 10.—Senator John M. Douglass, who is a delegate to the republican national convention, has received a request signed by the officers of the Middleton Plate Co. and fifty others, requesting him to use his influence to have the Connecticut delegates vote for McKinley on the first ballot. He has replied that in his opinion the Connecticut delegation will be governed by circumstances as found on reaching St. Louis.

CONDITION OF CROPS.

Weather Bureau's Weekly Bulletin for Eastern States.

Washington, June 10.—The weekly telegraphic crop reports of the weather bureau this week are as follows: New England—Crops much improved; generally grass and grain are gaining fast; fruit prospects continue excellent. New York—Much complaint of drought; hay crop beyond redemption. New Jersey—Wheat, rye and oats improved; corn and tender vegetation made but little progress owing to cool nights; absence of rain in many sections seriously affected pasture and meadow fields. Pennsylvania—Wheat, rye and hay somewhat improved; corn, oats, potatoes, vegetables and most fruits continue promising; insect pests troublesome; meadows and pastures short and thin. Maryland—Wheat ripening and reports most encouraging; hay short; tobacco plants and corn damaged by cutworms, but generally in good condition; truck excellent; the peach crop promises well in east.

To Pipe Oil 160 Miles.

Pittsburg, June 10.—A special dispatch from Bluffton, Ind., says that a project of building a second pipe line from the Indiana oil fields to Whiting, Ind., has just been made public by the filing in the office of the county recorder of articles of incorporation to which are attached the names of John and Michael Cudahy, the pork packers of Chicago. The new line will be 160 miles in length.

Harvard Student Accidentally Shot.

Boston, June 10.—Jerome E. Grosh of Toledo, O., a freshman in the Lawrence Scientific school, Harvard university, accidentally shot himself yesterday afternoon. He was in his room with some companions examining a revolver, when it was accidentally discharged, the ball entering his lung, making a very serious though probably not fatal wound.

Newfoundland Bonds Floated in England.

St. Johns, N. F., June 10.—Two million five hundred thousand dollars worth of 3½ per cent. Newfoundland government bonds have been floated in London at from 97 to par. This marks an advance of 16 points in Newfoundland securities in the past year, due to the returning prosperity of the colony.

MAY CLOSE TO-DAY

Final Adjournment of Congress Expected This Afternoon.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS CLEARED UP

Only Two Appropriation Bills Before the Senate This Morning and Speedy Action on Them Was Looked for—In the House.

Washington, June 10.—Very rapid progress was made this week by the senate in clearing up the odds and ends of legislative work, only two appropriation bills, the sundry civil and the District of Columbia, remaining this morning to be considered, and the indications are that they will be disposed of to-day, thus leaving the senate in a position for final adjournment, which may be reached this afternoon. Final conference reports on the naval appropriation bill were presented and agreed to. In the naval bill a compromise was made reducing the number of new battleships to three, and directing that no contracts shall be made for armor plate until after the secretary of the navy shall have inquired into the cost of manufacture and shall have made report to congress. The question of contract schools in the Indian bill was compromised on the basis of allowing them, where there are no other schools to take their place, during the fiscal year 1897. A resolution offered by Mr. Wolcott, rep., Col., respecting the erection of an equestrian statue to Gen. William T. Sherman in the city of Washington was taken up and discussed for nearly two hours. It directed an inquiry by the committee on the library into the facts and circumstances of the contract, and requested the secretary of war to suspend its execution until next session. The resolution was defeated. The bill in relation to contempt of court reported from the judiciary committee by Mr. Hill, dem., N. Y., was taken up, discussed for some time and then allowed to be set aside informally so that other business might be taken up. The bill increasing from $12 to $50 a month the pension of Francis E. Hoover, which was vetoed by the president, and afterwards passed by the house over the president's veto, was taken up and discussed briefly, but when the senate came to vote upon its passage it turned out that there was no voting quorum in the chamber.

House of Representatives.

It is confidently believed by many members of the house that final adjournment of this session will be taken to-night. The vote by which the contested election case of Aldrich, rep., vs. Underwood, dem., from ninth Alabama district, was decided in favor of the former yesterday, stood 116 yeas to 107 nays. Mr. Aldrich was sworn in. The final conference reports on the Indian and naval appropriation bills were agreed to amid applause. The report of the conference upon the sundry civil appropriation bill, a final agreement as to all matters in dispute except the public building appropriations, was agreed to. The house voted to insist upon its disagreement to these, except as to that for the building at Savannah, Ga., but by a vote of 96 to 91 agreed to it. The house disagreed to the senate amendment to the urgency deficiency bill giving to every employe on the rolls December 2, 1895, and since discharged a month's salary. The rules were suspended and the bill passed to put in operation the recommendations of the international marine conference for preventing collisions at sea. A resolution reported from the committee on accounts was agreed to, authorizing the speaker to appoint a special committee of five to sit during the recess to investigate the charges against the Leavenworth Soldiers' home, and appropriating $3,000 for its expenses.

Assignee To Continue the Business.

Amesbury, Mass., June 10.—At a meeting of creditors of the Lewis & Gross Shoe company the firm stated its liabilities as $26,000; assets, $31,000, which includes the plant, stock in factory and $4,000 worth of manufactured goods for Chicago. It asked for extension of time and a committee of three was appointed to investigate. The assignee was instructed to continue the business.

AMERICANS HONORED

Cambridge University Confers Courtesy Degress Upon Them.

PROFS. NEWCOMB AND MARCH FAVORED

The Former Has Charge of the Nautical Almanac and the Latter a Member of the Faculty of Lafayette College.

London, June 10.—The University of Cambridge has conferred honorary degrees upon Capt. Simon Newcomb, who has charge of the "American Ephemeris and Nautical Almanac," and who is professor of mathematics and astronomy at Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, Md., and Francis Andrew March, professor of the English language and comparative philology at Lafayette college, Easton, Pa.

Professor Simon Newcomb was born in Wallace, N. C., March 12, 1835. In 1857 he was appointed as computer on the Nautical Almanac, which was then published at Cambridge, Mass. He entered the Lawrence Scientific school and was graduated in 1858. In 1861 he was appointed professor of mathematics in the United States navy and assigned to duty at the naval observatory at Washington. In 1877 he became senior professor of mathematics in the navy with the relative rank of captain. In addition he, in 1884, became professor of mathematics and astronomy in Johns Hopkins university. He has received degrees from many universities in this country and abroad. In 1875 he was awarded the Huygens great gold medal of the University of Leyden. In 1887 the Russian government ordered his portrait painted for the collection of famous astronomers at the observatory of Pulkowa. Prof. March was born in Millbury, Mass., October 25, 1825. He was graduated at Amherst in 1845 and studied law in New York, being admitted to the bar. He taught law in Fredericksburg, Va., from 1852 to 1855, and then became tutor in Lafayette college, where in 1857 he was made professor of the English language and comparative philology.

MASSACRED BY KURDS.

Now Estimated That 200 European Engineers Were Among the Victims.

London, June 10.—The Daily News to-day publishes a dispatch from Athens saying that instead of only a few French, British and German engineers being massacred by Kurds on the line of the railway from Smyrna to Kassaba, as reported on Sunday last, the number of victims is estimated at two hundred. The consuls at Smyrna have gone to the scene to investigate the affair.

Minister Taylor Ill in Paris.

Washington, June 10.—Hannis Taylor, United States minister to Spain, whose sudden abandonment of his literary plans at Oxford and departure from England was told in cable dispatches, is ill in Paris. How ill Mr. Taylor is, is not known here. It is understood that his departure from England was not due to any instructions from the state department to return to his post.

Death of William Andrew Ure.

Newark, N. J., June 10.—William Andrew Ure, one of the proprietors of the Sunday Call, died in this city last evening. He had been ill for ten weeks with cancer of the lungs. Mr. Ure was born in West Farms, N. Y., April 8, 1839. He was elected alderman in 1875, and was chosen three times president of the Newark board of trade, holding the position at the time of his death.

Instantly Killed by a Train.

Guilford, Conn., June 10.—John Lines, aged 25, a blacksmith employed by the Guilford Wheel company, was struck by a west-bound express train on the Shore Line railroad yesterday afternoon and instantly killed. He was walking along the tracks on his way to work and stepped out of the way of one express directly in front of the train which killed him.

To Remove Gen. Rawlins' Remains.

Newburgh, N. Y., June 10.—John A. Rawlins Post No. 1, department of the Potomac, G. A. R., proposes to remove the remains of Gen. John A. Rawlins, a famous commander in the Union army during the war, and an intimate friend of Gen. Grant, from the Congressional cemetery at Washington to the National cemetery at Arlington, Va.

Will Be a Total Loss.

London, June 10.—A cablegram received here from Jamaica states that the steamer Golden Fleece from New York for Kingston, before reported ashore near Morant, jettisoned a portion of her cargo, but the work of lightening was stopped when she was found to be sinking. She will be a total loss.

Town Road Award.

Willimantic, Conn., June 10.—The selectmen of the town of Windham last night awarded the issue of $105,000 thirty-year 4 per cent. improvement bonds to E. H. Gay & Co., of Boston, at 104.67.

CAPT. HEALY'S PUNISHMENT.

Dropped to Foot of List of Captains and Suspended from Duty.

Washington, June 10.—Secretary Carlisle has decided to drop Capt. Healy, revenue marine service, to the foot of the list of captains, to suspend him from duty and to place him on waiting orders for a period of four years, and to have the order of reprimand read on all the vessels of the revenue marine service, which order contains the warning that a repetition of his extensive drunkenness will cause his dismissal from the service. Captain Healy's sentence is the next most severe to dismissal. He commanded the United States steamer Bear, and charges were preferred against him by Lieutenants Daniel and Emery and Assistant Engineer Jones. Five charges and fourteen specifications were made by Lieut. Daniel, one charge and three specifications by Lieut. Emery and one charge and two specifications by Engineer Jones. The charges embraced drunkenness, abusive and tyrannous conduct, placing a government vessel in peril while drunk and endangering life and property.

CIGAR MAKERS APPEAL.

Ask Secretary Olney for Protection Against Weyler's Tobacco Embargo.

New York, June 10.—Mr. Krohn, secretary of the National Association of Cigar manufacturers, has sent to Secretary of State Olney a letter with reference to the tobacco embargo laid upon Cuba by Gen. Weyler. The communication affirms that if the existing contracts for the delivery of leaf tobacco purchased on the island of Cuba cannot be enforced enormous pecuniary losses will result and great hardships entailed upon many thousands of employes in the United States. An appeal is also made to the secretary of state for protection, and it is requested that such action be taken for the conservation of the important interests of the American citizens involved as may, under the circumstances, seem proper.

ONE DEAD; SIX WILL DIE.

180 Cans of Dynamite Exploded by Railroad Track Workers.

Johnstown, Pa., June 10.—One hundred and eighty cans of dynamite exploded about a mile below Lilly last evening with frightful results. The dead and injured are: Mike Scawnoski, dead; Antonio Stibie, Gregorius Seiskie, Gabriel Augonoski, Frank Smith, colored; Peter Jackson, colored; Samuel Walters, fatally injured. The men were at work on the Pennsylvania railroad and were getting ready to make a blast when a premature explosion followed, blowing up 180 cans of dynamite and burying the seven men beneath a mass of sand and rock.

FOR WIBORG'S PARDON.

Petition in the Horsa Captain's Case Turned Over to the Attorney-General.

Washington, June 10.—The numerously signed petition for the pardon of Capt. Wiborg of the Horsa, who was sentenced by the United States court in Philadelphia to one year and four months' imprisonment and $300 fine for violation of the neutrality laws in landing a party of filibusters and their arms in Cuba, has been delivered to the president by Capt. Kerr of counsel for the prisoner. It has been referred to the attorney-general for report, in accordance with the usual procedure.

Arrested on Suspicion of Murder.

Lewiston, Me., June 10.—Henry Grenier was arrested yesterday on suspicion of being the murderer of Honore Dionne, Saturday night. Dionne was found at 5 o'clock Sunday morning, nearly dead in a woodshed, dying shortly afterwards. A post mortem examination held Monday afternoon showed a bad fracture on the back of the head, indicating death by violence.

Connecticut's Escaped Convicts.

Hartford, June 10.—Up to this morning there was no clue to the discovery of the two men, Dwight F. Steere and George A. Minor, one a life convict and the other a ten year prisoner, who escaped from state prison at Wethersfield Monday. Various rumors of their having been seen have been investigated without any result.

Appointed Inspector of Cattle.

Providence, June 10.—The state board of health has appointed John E. Whipple of Coventry inspector of cattle to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Benjamin Burlingame of River Point.

A Costly Kiss.

Hartford, June 10.—Judge Bill yesterday fined William Dungan $50 and sent him to jail for six months for assaulting and attempting to kiss Mrs. M. C. Taylor.

Approved by the President.

Washington, June 10.—The president has approved the postoffice appropriation bill.

Public Funeral for Jules Simon.

Paris, June 10.—A majority of the members of the chamber of deputies have approved of a public funeral for Jules Simon, the distinguished statesman who died Monday morning from [illegible].

WEYLER TO DINE LEE

Our Consul at Havana the Guest To-Day of the Captain-General.

UNUSUAL COURTESY EXTENDED TO HIM

Havana Volunteers Routed by a Small Rebel Party—Short Crops in Cuba Cause Serious Concern at Madrid.

Havana, June 10.—Consul General Lee again visited Capt.-Gen. Weyler yesterday. It is said Dawley, the imprisoned correspondent of Harper's Weekly, will be freed to-day. The captain-general has invited Gen. Lee to dine with him to-day. Weyler is extending unusual courtesy to Gen. Lee.

SPANIARDS ROUTED.

A Force of Havana Volunteers Meet Defeat at the Hands of the Rebels.

Havana, June 10.—On Thursday last a force of Havana volunteers who were acting as a garrison on the Precioso estate, near Cardenas, met a small rebel party and an engagement took place in which the volunteers were defeated and compelled to retreat. Seven of the government's forces were killed and two wounded. Lieut. Vasquez and two other Spaniards were captured, but were released after signing a document in which they bound themselves to never again fight against the Cuban patriots.

Cuba's Short Harvest.

Madrid, June 10.—A dispatch to the Imparcial from Havana says that the Cuban harvest this year will be only one-eighth that of 1895. The authorities are concerned regarding the condition of the laborers in the island, and are trying to prevent them from joining the insurgents. Four months' pay is owing to the army. The dispatch adds that the forces of Maceo are overrunning the province of Pinar del Rio.

No Decision Before August.

Madrid, June 10.—The military council is engaged minutely studying the documents relating to the case of the American filibustering schooner Competitor, which was recently captured by the Spanish authorities on the coast of Cuba. The examination of these documents will be protracted and no decision will be reached before August at the very earliest.

THE BERMUDA LIBELED.

Said To Be a Scheme To Procure Her American Registry.

Philadelphia, June 10.—The steamer Bermuda which was recently deprived of her registry by the British consul at this port because, it is said, of her alleged filibustering expeditions, and which has since been lying at Camden, N. J., has been seized by United States Marshal Pfeiffer of New Jersey on a libel filed by three seamen for unpaid wages. The amount claimed by the seamen is $27.75. It is said that the filing of the libel is part of a plan to secure a registry for the steamer under the American flag. It was stated that if the vessel should be sold by order of the United States court and purchased by an American citizen her past record would be wiped out and her owner could procure new papers and sail her under the American flag. The seamen who brought the proceedings are Geo. Mansen, Servente Goden and John Petersen. They claim that they were engaged to ship on the steamer on April 13, when she was preparing for her last trip to Jamaica. After working for nine days on the vessel they were told, they claim, that she would probably engage in a hazardous undertaking and they refused to sign the shipping articles. The mate then gave them an account of the wages due them. When they presented this to John D. Hart, the reputed owner, payment was refused. Lawyer Harrison Voorhees of Camden, who represents the seamen, denies that the suit has been instituted, so far as he knows, to secure a new registry for the steamer.

SPANISH WARSHIP IN PURSUIT.

The Filibustering Steamer Laurada Takes Refuge in Port Antonio.

Kingston, Jamaica, June 10.—The filibustering steamer Laurada, from New York, arrived at Port Antonio on Saturday last. A Spanish warship was in pursuit of her, but, of course, did not enter the port in her effort to capture the Laurada. The warship is still off the port waiting for the Laurada to leave. It is believed that the latter landed a large quantity of munitions of war in Cuba. If she should be pursued when she leaves Port Antonio she will run along the coast within the marine league limit until her superior speed enables her to stand out to sea in advance of the Spanish warship.

Harris Engine Co. Employes Resume Work.

Providence, June 10.—The forty employes of the W. A. Harris Engine company who did not receive their wages on Saturday and consequently refused to work Monday have been paid in full and have returned to work.

To Be Made Cardinals.

Rome, June 10.—The Osservatore Romano states that the papal nuncios to Austria, Vienna, Paris and Madrid will be made cardinals.

WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

Taking a Picture of the Interior of a Living Body.

An Improvement in Photography That Will Stop at Nothing, If the Story Is Correctly Told—The Views of Wizard Edison.

What Wizard Edison has qualified as the greatest discovery of the century has just been made public in Vienna. It is a process by which the interior of a living body can be photographed, and its author is Prof. Roentgen, of the University of Wuerzburg, in Bavaria. This remarkable feat is achieved by means of a light that penetrates all organic bodies, such as wood, leather and substances of that class. Radiant heat produces this light, the penetrative power of which is wonderful. The object to be photographed is exposed to a Crooke's tube, which is air-tight, and through which an induction current is led. The rays thrown out by this radiant heat, intense in character, are thrown from the tube upon the object to be photographed.

Several remarkable negatives are shown by Prof. Roentgen. One shows a man's ankle, in which a bullet is imbedded. To the surgeon, therefore, who could only determine the location of bullets with the aid of the probe, this discovery is of extraordinary significance. A leather purse, containing a number of coins, was photographed and a negative obtained that gives with wonderful accuracy not only the picture of the purse itself, but every coin in its relative position to the others.

A skeleton hand, showing the bone structure of that member, was produced by focusing the heat rays on the hand of a man. The flesh seems to have entirely disappeared. A man in ordinary dress sitting before a young lady was photographed, and the heat rays penetrated clothes and all, and gave a perfect skeleton picture. A spinal vertebra was photographed through the skin of the body, and came out perfect. Into a wooden box were placed objects of iron. In the negative the iron articles appear in exact likeness, but the outer box, like a phantom, has vanished altogether, thus demonstrating that the new process can be subjected to any test.

THE SKELETON HAND.
(From a photograph taken by the new process.)

The wire over which the electric current passes into the tube is attached to a small storage battery in the camera at the rear of the tube, the latter being arranged like the lens in an ordinary camera. A heavy cloth is thrown over the end of the tube, from which the heat rays are focused in such a way that the outline of the tube's end is preserved, so that the operator may focus the rays without difficulty. The photographing is thus done through this heavy cloth, as well as other organic substances described above.

While radiant heat light is not new the application which Prof. Roentgen has made of it is an entirely new scientific test, which overturns the theory regarding opaque objects, such as have heretofore been included in the categories of those that light would not penetrate. The professor is of the opinion that his discovery will demonstrate that there is no such thing as an opaque body, and that the penetrating power of light may be regulated by its intensity and manner of use.

Thomas A. Edison claims for the new discovery that it will prove almost limitless, and without being as yet acquainted with the materials used by Prof. Roentgen, says that it is doubtless accomplished with plates sensitized with chemicals exposed to radiant heat, or, as Edison calls it, invisible light. The work is done with what we call waves of low refrangibility.

From the standpoint of medical and surgical science, the discovery is invaluable. All diseases and growths of the interior body can thus be photographed and absolutely located. Mr. Edison is also of the opinion that this discovery can be so perfected that there will be no further vivisection of bodies, and that the formation of the brain can be mapped out without any trouble.

For metallurgy and mineralogy the new discovery is as limitless as it is for medical science. By this new process all the dips, spurs and angles of the veins and character of the mineral contents can be discovered without making tunnels and sinking shafts.

While the cardinal factor of the new process is radiant heat, Mr. Edison is confident that special rays thereof and specially prepared chemical plates are necessary to jointly operate with it. Radiant heat is the only energy which fills all space and pervades all bodies when transformed to luminiferous ether. The ether particles are set to vibrate by the hot body, and the vibratory motion travels in all directions like waves at a speed of about 180,000 miles a second.

Prof. Henry Morton, of Stevens' Institute of Technology at Hoboken, is not as enthusiastic in his belief in the new discovery as Prof. Edison. Morton doubts the practicability with regard to some of the experiments, but does not deny the possibility of the process.

TRIP IN AN INDIAN CANOE

Exciting Ride of a Party of Government Officers on Leech Lake, Minnesota.

Among all the modes of progression hitherto invented, there is not one that can compare in respect to comfort and luxury with traveling in a birch bark canoe.

In the early autumn the writer, in company with a party of government officials, the head chief of the Chippewa Indians and 50 men of his tribe, met by appointment at the Indian agency on the south shore of Leech lake, Minn., preparatory to a trip up the lake, thence up the river connecting with Lake Winnebegoshish, and across the latter to a camp of the Winnebegoshish Indians.

Leech lake, with its shore line of 400 miles, is justly considered the most beautiful in natural scenery of the chain of lakes to be found in northern Minnesota; but to see it in all its beauty it is not enough to walk along its shores. One must ride over it. The river connecting the two lakes has a deep, swift current, and many dangerous rocks to avoid, which require both skill and experience in navigation. The party had been provided with 12 canoes and skilled boatmen, the chief of the tribe being the leader. We made all our preparations and started, the passengers of the party being prepared to enjoy the bouncing over the waters. We proceeded evenly for a time, but presently the current quickened perceptibly. The best boatman shifted his place from the stern to the bow. Instinctively it was known that there was hidden danger ahead. The faces of the men began to glow with excitement. Quicker and quicker flowed the current, breaking into little rapids, foaming around the rocks, rising in rumbling waves over the shallows. One piercing yell from the old chief sent a thrill through every one, like the sudden shock of an electric current. He stood erect in the bow, and at his signal, given by a quick wave of the hand, every man of the crew in all the line of boats redoubled his efforts. The paddle shafts crashed against the gunwale, the spray flew beneath the bending blades. The canoes fairly shook, leaping bodily at every stroke. Ahead was a seething mass of foam, its whiteness broken by black rocks, one touch against whose sides would rip the boats into tatters. The chief rose the second time, noting in that critical moment the line of deepest water. Then with sharp words of command to his men, and bending to his work, he steered straight ahead. One canoe pitched headlong into space. Whack, came a great wave over the bow. Crash! came another on the side. Every man of the line shouted with excitement, as only an Indian knows how to do.

After the first plunge we were in a bewildering whirl of waters. With a shriek of command and a quick move of the paddle the chief wrenched the canoe out of its course. Another stroke, another plunge forward and the boat pitched headlong out of the swift current, and soon glided rapidly into still water.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Our Vanishing Birds.

A leading American ornithologist says that some of our most desirable birds are threatened with extermination. The common quail and ruffed grouse are becoming very scarce. Wrens and bluebirds are driven from their old haunts by sparrows. Terns are slaughtered by thousands for the millinery business, and Florida is similarly despoiled of its herons, ibis, pelicans, and smaller birds. The wild pigeon has disappeared. Fashion at present is the greatest enemy of bird life, but collectors of eggs are also responsible for great destruction. Protection of birds must come through the education of the people, especially the rising generation, and by protective legislation sustained by game wardens. Thus far no state legislature has given the subject the attention it deserves and must soon demand, if the present ravages continue.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Tea Kills a Horse.

People with a fondness for tea cigarettes should read the story told in Gen Montgomery's new book on Africa of Lord Wilfrid Basford's horse, which broke open a chest of tea and ate a pound or two of it. The animal was seized with a violent madness that alarmed the camp and terrified all the other horses. Finally it collapsed and died in great agony. A post-mortem examination revealed the cause of the trouble.—Chicago Tribune.

GRATIFYING RESULTS.

INTERESTING EXPERIMENTS WITH THE NEW STOMACH REMEDY.

Not a Patent Medicine, But a Safe Cure for all Forms of Indigestion.

The results of recent investigations have established beyond question the great value of the new put up preparation for indigestion and stomach troubles known as Dyspepsia Tablets, composed of the digestive acids, pepsin, bismuth, Golden Seal and similar stomachics, prepared in the form of 20 grain lozenges, pleasant to the taste, convenient to carry when traveling, harmless as to the most delicate stomach, and probably the safest, most effectual remedy discovered for indigestion, sour stomach, loss of appetite and flesh, nausea, sick headaches, palpitation of heart, and the many symptoms arising from imperfect digestion of food. They cure because they cause the food to be promptly and thoroughly digested before it has time to sour, ferment and poison the blood and nervous system.

Over six thousand people in the state of Michigan alone in 1894 were cured of stomach troubles by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Full sized packages may be found at all druggists at 50c., or sent by mail on receipt of price from Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. Send for free book on stomach diseases.

nothing that can be washed or cleaned—Pearline. The purest soap is no safer—the poorest soap is no cheaper. It is more effective than the strongest—it is more convenient than the best. Pearline saves labor and wear in washing clothes or cleaning house. A few cents will let you try it: common sense will make you use it.

Beware peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled; if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, he's honest—send it back. 283 JAMES PYLE, New York.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant, family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why the ever increasing number of those who use this excellent remedy will not accept any substitute, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the only remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

WONDERS OF SKIAGRAPHY.

An Invisible Power That Can Work in the Dark.

Now that it is has been shown that it is possible to take photographs with "dark light," it is obvious that we must attach a deeper and a much wider meaning to the word light than has heretofore been ordinarily understood. The fact is, the eye is able to see very little. It can appreciate and turn to account in producing an impression upon the retina but a very limited portion, say, by more than an octave of the waves or vibrations that may actuate the ether or medium which pervades all space. The ear is a more sensitive instrument for sound vibrations, since most people can appreciate the notes within the compass of a piano, but even here there must be a limit. Some persons cannot recognize the extreme top notes or rapid undulations until the tension of the strings is reduced, when the note is appreciated, having been brought down to the level of the ear's capacity and the vibrations reduced in frequency. In the same way the photographic plate has brought within our vision countless stars which the eye, even aided by the telescope, fails to see. The sensitive plate, in other words, records infinitely more than the eye, and this property is utilized to bring things within the range of human vision. So it is with the "X" or Roentgen rays, and doubtless there are other rays which have a greater penetrative power. Opacity is, indeed, a phenomenon existing merely for an eye like ours, which, if constructed a little differently, would enable us to see easily through walls. Perhaps it is a wise provision that it is not so.

The fact that photographs have been taken with no apparent source of light, appears to be due to the property of probably most things, of absorbing certain rays and giving them out again in the dark. Thus, if a transparent photograph proof has been freely exposed to the light and then taken into the dark room and placed over a sensitive plate for some time the plate on development will give a distinct negative image. The same thing is illustrated in a stronger manner in luminous paint, which absorbs light and gives it out again so that it is visible to the eye in the dark. We have heard some people assert that on reading a paper closely in a railway train which is just rapidly entering a railway tunnel they are enabled to read on for quite a few seconds or so in spite of the darkness. It is quite possible that it is due to the paper giving up the light which it has absorbed.—London Lancet.

AUSTRALIAN BEE HUNT.

How the Natives Find the Well-Filled Hives.

An Australian savage comes up to an Englishman's idea of human skill, for "he knows the bees." A native seldom fails to get honey when he discovers the bee he has been watching for. The following description of a native's bee hunt is given in Mr. Arthur's "Kangaroo and Emu":

Wombah, the chief of a tribe, [illegible] two little rests to a small pool, [illegible] mouth with water, and then [illegible] down, his head hanging over the pool, he remained quiet for an hour, apparently looking at his own reflection in the water. Then the hum of a bee was heard. Buzz-z-z it went over the pool, round the black's head, now on one side, now on the other, and now close to his ear; but not a motion betrayed the bee hunter.

But when the bee, dropping close to the water, gave notice by the change of its tune that it was about to sip, the chief, with a snort, squirted the water from his mouth over the little "buzzer." Before it had time to recover from the unexpected douche, he seized it dexteriously by the wings.

Then he prepared it for the chase by fastening to it a bunch of wild cotton with some gum. The bee was let go; it made for its hive, slowly at first on account of its novel burden, which impeded its progress and showed a sign in the air for the chief to follow. Over bramble and brake went the chief, accompanied by the men of his tribe, and in half an hour halted at the foot of an immense gum tree, into whose top the bee had gone.

The chief mounted quickly, by cutting notches into the bark with his stone tomahawk. In a short time he brought down a quantity of honeycomb, a small piece only of which contained honey. The Australian bees are stingless.

NOT THE SAME.

Beranger's Terse and Clever Characterization of Victor Hugo.

A terse and clever characterization was that by which Beranger, the poet, summed up Victor Hugo's relation to the great republican spirit of France. Hugo, although it is said that he was not a republican at the very beginning of his career, became a most enthusiastic and outspoken one. He represented the pictorial, dramatic side of popular feeling and became so picturesque a figure in French politics that he could not have failed to serve as a popular idol.

Beranger, who was a republican of the simplest type, notwithstanding his share in establishing Louis Philippe on the throne, denied the poet's attitude in one line.

One day, says the Contemporary Review, shortly after the revolution which overtoppled that throne, an acquaintance of Beranger met him coming out of the Palais-Bourbon. "I shall feel obliged," said the poet, "if you will see me home, for I do not feel at all well. Those violent scenes inside there are not to my taste. I am not at all well," he continued, with a wistful smile: "I have been accused of having held the plank over which Louis Philippe went to the Tuileries. I wish I could be the bridge across the Channel on which he would return. Certainly I would have liked a republic, but not such as we are having in there."

He pointed to the home of the Constituent assembly. "You ought to be pleased," said his friend. "Victor Hugo is in the same regiment with you."

"Victor Hugo is not in the regiment," was the quiet reply. "He is in the band."

PICKED UP IN THE STREET.

A Blacksmith Finds His Tool to Be a Nugget of Pure Gold.

Curious things sometimes happen in the gold bearing regions of the northwest. The Blackfoot (Idaho) News tells of a somewhat remarkable experience which occurred to a blacksmith at that town lately.

The smith, whose name is Farmer, had in his shop a grindstone which he wished to "taper off." For this purpose a small stone was requisite. So he went out of doors and made search for a stone of the right size and shape.

He found one somewhat smaller than a hen's egg, and returning to his shop began to smooth down the edge of the grindstone with it. He had not "smoothed" long before he thought that the stone worked rather queerly, and was, in fact, too soft to grind the stone. He took it to his anvil and broke it in half, and then he found that he had picked up a nugget of pure gold.

Unfortunately, it was a rather small nugget. He sold it for $3.82 cents, and though this was a very good price for a pebble picked up in the street, it was not wealth.

Pneumonia.

That dreaded disease that temporarily compels a cessation of the work of all the greater organs of the body, thus stopping the digestion of food, the creation of new tissue, brings the patient to a point where the flickering flame of life is blown out like the light of a burnt-out candle. that great concentrated essence of the vital principles of lean beef, the strength of which is enhanced by our special cold process method of manufacture, it can be retained by the weakest stomach, and in every instance makes blood, flesh and strength. Dr. Charles Wilson, Atwell Ave., Providence, says; "My wife suffered a severe attack of pneumonia; after passing the acute stage fearing heart failure, I gave her freely Bovinine and port wine, equal parts. I have never seen such good results. I am a hearty believer in Bovinine for quick nutrition." Over 25000 other physicians endorse it equally strong.

CITY OF MIDDLETOWN.

The Democratic electors of the several wards of the city of Middletown will meet on Tuesday evening, June 16, at 8 o'clock, to select delegates to attend the Assembly Convention to send delegates to the State Convention. The following places have been selected to hold primaries:

1st Ward—Mcquoid Engine House.
2nd Ward—Phoenix Engine House.
3rd Ward—Commercial Hotel.
4th Ward—Hobbins House.

By order of City Committee.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

May 13th, 1896.

The Democratic Electors of the several Assembly Districts of the State of New York are requested to send three delegates from each of the said districts to attend a State Convention, to be held at Saratoga, on the 24th day of June, 1896, at 12 m., for the purpose of selecting the number of delegates to which the State of New York is entitled in the National Democratic Convention, to be held at Chicago, on the 7th day of July next.

J. W. Kinkley, Chairman.
John Cunneen, Secretary.

ASSEMBLY DISTRICT CONVENTION.

The Democrats of the Second Assembly District of Orange county are requested to meet at the respective places at which the last town or ward caucuses were held, on Tuesday, June 16th, 1896, at 7 o'clock p. m., to elect delegates to the Democratic State Convention, to be held at Saratoga on June 24th, 1896, and to transact such other business as may come before the convention. By order of Assembly Committee.

W. H. Crane, Chairman.

The silver delegates to the Republican convention realize that they cannot force the adoption of a free coinage plank. Some are willing to accept a straddle, others threaten to bolt the convention, while others say they will remain and help the gold standard men make the goldenest kind of a gold platform, that the issue of gold and silver may be clearly defined. This done, they will go home and help defeat their party at the polls. One of Utah's delegates-at-large goes so far as to say that if McKinley is nominated on a gold platform, he will be defeated, for he will lose all the far Western States and Indiana and Illinois, and will be lucky if he carries Ohio.

The agitation for free silver has brought the politics of the country to a most surprising pass. It is reported on creditable authority and believed by many that a Democratic president and some members of his Cabinet will support the Republican candidate on a gold platform in preference to a free silver Democrat on a free silver platform. The more rabid free silverites, who still call themselves Democrats, but who have drifted far away from Democratic principles, are talking of trying to nominate as the Democratic candidate, Senator Teller, of Colorado, who is a delegate to the Republican national convention, and who has never had an idea in common with true Democracy. Of course, the scheme will fail, but that it should be even dreamed of shows how completely old political issues have been forgotten and old party lines obliterated by the craze for free silver.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ELECTION.

The Regular Ticket Elected Without a Sign of Opposition.

The annual election of officers of the Middletown Fire Department was held, last evening. One hundred and forty-three votes were cast for the nominees of Saturday night's convention, and the old officers were all reelected as follows:

Chief Engineer—Edwin H. Thorpe, of Eagle Hose Co.

1st Assistant—Charles Higham, of Monhagen Hose Co.

2d Assistant—Daniel Schmitt, of McQuoid Engine Co.

Secretary—Ed. E. Lorentz, of Phoenix Engine Co.

Treasurer—Ira M. Corwin, of Eagle Hose Co.

The voting was divided among the companies as follows:

Eagle Hose Co.	30
Excelsior H. and L. Co.	34
McQuoid Engine Co.	20
Ontario Hose Co.	15
Phoenix Engine Co.	15
Monhagen Hose Co.	13
Wauchull Engine Co.	7

Chief Thorpe and Alderman Harry Franch presided as inspectors of election, together with a representative from each of the other companies.

IN BOSS PLATT'S COMPANY.

Congressman Odell, One of the Favored Few, Who Go to St. Louis With Platt.

By United Press.

New York, June 10.—Thos. C. Platt, Congressman Odell, Lou. F. Payne and C. W. Hackett, chairman of the Republican state committee, left this forenoon, in a special car on Baltimore and Ohio railroad for St. Louis. They are due there to-morrow night.

COL. THOMAS W. BRADLEY.

A Vice Presidential possibility, if the Republican convention sends the nomination to New York, is Col. Tom Bradley, the original bolter to McKinley, whose genial face is depicted above. Col. Bradley is the wide-awake manager of the New York Knife Works, at Walden, and an all around good fellow, who is worthy of any honor his party sees fit to bestow upon him.

LOCATED BY X-RAYS.

A Broken Needle Removed from a Young Woman's Hand.

Mr. Harry C. Ogden, by means of an X-ray photograph, last night, located a broken needle in the palm of the right hand of Miss Stancon, who is employed by Mrs. C. B. McQuoid. The patient was put under the influence of ether, this morning, and Dr. Hulett made a small incision in the hand and removed the needle from the point designated by the photograph. This is the first operation of the kind that has been performed in this city.

A HOUSE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

The Residence of James Ural Slightly Damaged, This Morning.

The residence of James Ural, 61 Montgomery street, was struck by lightning about 10 o'clock, this morning. The bolt struck the chimney, damaging it somewhat, and sending the stovepipes flying about the rooms. Very little other damage was done.

The members of the family received slight shocks, and were, of course, badly frightened, but are none the worse for their exciting experience.

Funeral of Patrick A. Spellman.

The funeral of the late Patrick A. Spellman was held, this morning, in St. Joseph's Church, requiem high mass being celebrated by Father Salley, of Port Jervis. The interment was in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

The bearers were members of the A. O. H. from Middletown and Port Jervis divisions. These from the former were: William Costello, Lake Welsh and James Lawlor; and from the latter, Thomas O'Brien, James Kane and James Gillen.

The floral offerings were: Wreath on A. O. H.; gates ajar, Thos. Carrick; cross, Mrs. Stack; pillow, Mrs. Carrick.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

A Port Jervis Man's Suit to Recover Damages for Injuries.

Goshen, June 10—The trial of the suit of John E. Stanton, of Port Jervis, against the Passaic Rolling Mill Co., of Paterson, to recover for injuries to one of his hands sustained while in the company's employment, was begun, this morning. The accident happened while Stanton was riding on a car between the mill and the Erie tracks.

St. Joseph's C. B. Society Picnic.

St. Joseph's C. B. Society will hold a picnic at Manneredor Park, Wednesday, June 17th, afternoon and evening. Barnes orchestra will furnish music for dancing.

That Tired Feeling

Makes you seem "all broken up," without life, ambition, energy or appetite. It is often the forerunner of serious illness, or the accompaniment of nervous troubles. It is a positive proof of thin, weak, impure blood; for, if the blood is rich, red, vitalized and vigorous, it imparts life and energy to every nerve, organ and tissue of the body. The necessity of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for that tired feeling is therefore apparent to every one, and the good it will do you is equally beyond question. Remember

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier.

COVERED WITH HUMOR

When I was thirteen years old I began to have sore eyes and ears, as I from my ears a humor spread. I doctored with five different skilful doctors, but they did me no good. My disease was Eczema. By this time it had gone all over my head, face, and body. Nobody thought I would live, and would not have I un for Cuticura Remedies. I used four boxes of Cuticura, five cakes of Cuticura Soap, and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent. My hair I came out at that time, but now it is so thick I can hardly comb it. I am sixteen years old, weigh 130 pounds, and am perfectly well.

A DISHONEST OFFICE BOY.

Given Money for Deposit in the Merchants and Manufacturers' Bank—Squanders it at Coney Island.

The Argus published, yesterday, a brief dispatch announcing the arrest at Coney Island, of Charles Gray, a young man employed by Franklin M. Olds, a Newark, N. J., lawyer, who has large property interests at Mountain Dale, on a charge of stealing $495 that had been given him to deposit in a bank in this city.

Miss M. J. Carson, of Mr. Olds' office, arrived in this city, last night, to look after Mr. Olds' bank account, and from her we learned the following particulars concerning the affair:

Gray was a new office boy in Mr. Olds' office, and seemed honest and trustworthy, and Mr. Olds, wishing to send money to this city to meet checks on the Merchants and Manufacturers' bank that he had given to parties at Mountain Dale, gave him, Monday, $495. $250 of it in cash and the balance in checks to bring to this city.

Yesterday a Newark police captain informed Mr. Olds that Gray was under arrest at Coney Island, where he had been spending money so lavishly as to attract the attention of the police. Mr. Olds went at once to the Island, and found that the young man had squandered $133 of the money.

As soon as he learned that the boy had misappropriated the money Mr. Olds sent Miss Carson to this city with a deposit to make good his account, but the money came too late, several of Mr. Olds' checks having reached the bank and been protested.

will furnish very ingenious "ads." to the party who cannot write. The only weak point in this sort of ready-made ad. is the "machine" look of the thing in print. It is warranted to fit any style of dry goods, the "dainty dimity," "superb silks," "seductive stockings," etc., which are just a little better, a little finer, a little more chic, and which have an indescribable "what's its name" about them peculiar to ourselves you know. Does your grocer treat you fairly?

Can you rely upon his opinion of the quality of his wares?

Does he try to sell you an inferior article at the price of a better one? When you ask him for McMonagle & Rogers' Premium Extract Vanilla, does he try to sell you something else, claiming "it's just as good?"

Why does he do it? Because the inferior article costs him less and he charges you just as much for it? Don't trust him if he does business in that way.

Our Premium Fruit Flavors cost more to make because purer, better, stronger—for same reason they are more economical to use. It's as poor economy to use poor flavors for any purpose as it is to use musty eggs or rancid butter in cake.

Our Premium Flavoring Extracts produce most delicious results in cookery, are absolutely pure and every bottle warranted full measure.

To know what PURE Vanilla is, try it at our Fountain. Is it like what your grocer sells you?

AN ELOPING WIFE'S RETURN.

Martha Brewster Rickles Returns to Her Mother's Home in This City Deserted by McCloud in Less Than a Week—Had a Hard Time and Has Learned a Lesson—Her Plans for the Future.

On the fifth of May the ARGUS published an account of the elopement of Mrs. Martha Brewster Rickles, wife of George Rickles, a tailor of this city, with a tea drummer named Frank McCloud.

The young woman abandoned her three-months-old infant, and left letters for her husband and mother, in which she informed them that they would "never see her again."

The wayward woman returned, however, on Erie train 7, last night. Her dream of bliss with McCloud was a short one, for he deserted her in less than a week. Her story, as told to a representative of the ARGUS, is briefly as follows:

"I left town on Erie train 6 and McCloud joined me on the train at Goshen. On reaching New York he took me to some relatives of his, named Barnes, at 326 West 40th street, and introduced me as his wife. Two days after that he left the house, saying he was going to Middletown to get money on a note that he held. He returned that evening, saying that he got the money but had been robbed of $17, by tramps, while stealing a ride back to the city on a freight train.

"A few days after this the Barnes family fired him out of the house, because he had no money and would not try to get work. I haven't seen him since he left.

"The Barneses didn't entirely believe his story about my being his wife and they sent to Middletown for the papers and read the story of the elopement. They were kind to me, however, and communicated with my relatives and kept me till I made up my mind to come home. I hated to do it, but I realized at last that it was the best and only thing I could do.

"I've had a hard time and I've learned a lesson that I will not soon forget. I'm going to New York again in a few days and will engage rooms and mother and I will move there. I'll get work then.

"I'm not going to try and get my baby away from my husband. He was cruel to me, but perhaps he'll be good to the child.

"I understand that McCloud is in trouble with the tea company, by which he was employed while in Middletown."

Mrs. Brewster says that of late she has heard strange noises about the house at night and fears that McCloud has been prowling about in the hope of getting at her daughter. She promises to give him a warm reception if she again lays eyes on him.

DIED OF HIS INJURIES.

Joseph Gorman, One of the Victims of Monday Night's Trolley Accident, Dies in Thrall Hospital.

Joseph Gorman, the younger of the brothers who were injured in the trolley accident on East Main street, Monday evening, died at 12 o'clock, last night, at Thrall Hospital. The unfortunate young man was conscious nearly all day and evening, but gave evidence of severe internal injuries, and sank rapidly until death came to his relief.

We are assured that the report that the unfortunate man was intoxicated when the accident occurred is without foundation.

Deceased was twenty-three years of age and was a son of Michael and Honora Gorman, of 23 Everett street, by whom he is survived. Also by four brothers, Thomas, who was injured with him; Patrick, the blacksmith on Canal street with whom the deceased was employed; John, of this city, and Frank, of Crystal Run; also by one sister, Mrs. Thomas Brennan, of this city.

Coroner Decker will hold an inquest.

The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

KILLED BY AN ERIE EXPRESS TRAIN

A Young Man Struck by the Wells-Fargo and Hurled Seventy-Five Feet

Charles Kline, nineteen years old, was struck and instantly killed at Narrowsburgh, Monday evening, by the east bound Wells-Fargo Express. He was standing on the track waiting for a west bound freight to pass when the express rounded a curve, running forty miles an hour. The freight train was making so much noise that he did not hear the express whistle. He was thrown seventy-five feet and his whole left side was crushed. He was dead when picked up.

Cake Walk at Midway Park To-night.

A cake walk will be a special attraction at Midway Park, to-night. It will be in charge of a well known Middletown cake walkist, and five members of the Georgia Minstrel Company and their partners will compete. The walk will also be open to any Middletown or Goshen couples who think that they know how to walk off with the cake. Admission free.

May Lose an Arm.

Joseph B. Seybolt, a laborer employed at the Erie stone crusher, while coupling cars, yesterday morning, was caught between the bumpers and had his arm crushed at the elbow. He was taken to the Port Jervis Hospital. It is feared amputation will be necessary.

MARTHA WHITTAKER AT HOME

To Devote Herself to Contesting Her Mother's Will—Met by a Large Crowd.

Martha Whittaker, having escaped indictment, now proposes to vigorously contest the probate of the will of her mother, Mrs. Snyder, made a short time before her death, which disinherited her daughter. The contest is made on the ground of undue influence. The first hearing will take place before Surrogate Howell next week.

A large crowd was in waiting at the Port Jervis station when Mrs. Whittaker arrived there on the Mountain Express, Monday evening. She seemed in excellent spirits and to be indifferent to the stares of the crowd. She was warmly welcomed by some of her friends, but it was very evident that the crowd had gathered to see, not to welcome her.

For the present, she will reside with her aunt, Mrs. Sarah Snyder, wife of her father's youngest brother, Matteson Snyder.

A BOY SHOOTS A TRAMP.

A Brave Ten-Year-Old Lad Drives Away a Troublesome "Weary Willie."

A most disreputable looking tramp who had been hanging about Narrowsburgh for several days called Monday at the home of A. Milkes at Lava, Sullivan county, and finding no one at home but Milkes' ten-year-old boy, Johnnie, ordered him to give him certain things. The boy, in turn, ordered the tramp to leave and when he did not go, fired two shots at him, one of which took effect in his leg. The tramp fired twice at the boy, but did not hit him and then took a hasty departure. Search was made for the tramp, but he could not be found.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. George Coddington.

Mrs. Cora, wife of George Coddington, formerly of this city, died at her home in Fremont, Neb., last week, aged twenty-seven years. The funeral, held Friday, June 4th, was in charge of Golden Rule Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., of which she was one of the charter members, and was very largely attended. In the funeral sermon Mrs. Coddington's pastor paid an eloquent and sincere tribute to the devout christian spirit, the unselfishness, the love and the faithfulness to duty of the deceased.

Sylvester S. Corwin.

Sylvester S. Corwin died very suddenly, yesterday, at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Charles Mapes, at Maple Dale, aged forty-nine years. A more extended obituary will appear, to-morrow.

Ground Broken for a New Church in Port Jervis.

Ground was broken, Monday evening, for the Second Reformed Church of Port Jervis, which is to be located in the Germantown district. The exercises were in charge of the Ladies' Aid Society. The first shovelful of earth was lifted by Mrs. Turner, President of the society, and each member of the society followed her example, but the shovel that the ladies used having been a small one, the excavation made was not large.

Almost Run Down by Railroad Trains.

—Mr. William S. Wallace, of 219 North street, came very near being run down, this morning, at the Wickham crossing of the O. and W.

—Erie yard brakeman Kimball, while standing at the North street crossing watching the switch engine, did not hear the milk train approaching, but when the train was only a few feet away saw his danger and jumped from the track, not a second too soon.

A Female Hobo.

A "new woman" passed through this city, yesterday, in the guise of a female tramp who was stealing a ride on a freight train. In company with a male companion the woman rode on an empty gondola. The novel sight attracted considerable attention from railroad men.

Population of the State Hospital.

According to the Conglomerate there were, Tuesday, in the State Hospital for the Insane in this city, 1,179 patients, of whom 589 were males and 590 females. During the week one patient was admitted and two discharged.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN.

Paying Corporation Taxes—Granite Contracts Worth Having—Going to New York for Surgical Treatment—Whistler Williams—Yard Engine Derailed—The Convalescents' Home.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

—Monday, corporation tax collector R. W. White received $755 of the $10,995 to be collected.

—The Empire State Granite Co. has been awarded the contract to furnish the stone necessary for the construction of a ten story building in Philadelphia, and a building of equal size to be erected in New York city.

—Mr. David G. Vreeland, who has been laid up for some time by a tumor in his throat, will go to New York, to-morrow, to undergo an operation for its removal.

—Mr. Reuben Williams, the whistler, entertained a small but appreciative audience composed of club members, at the rooms of the Goshen Social and Athletic Association, last night. "Si" Hicks played a melodious accompaniment on his ancient guitar.

—The yard engine was derailed at the foundry switch, yesterday morning. The Greycourt wrecker was sent for, and replaced the engine without trouble.

—At the expiration of two weeks the fresh air children at the "home" on the Bradner farm will be returned to New York, and another consignment take their place. Liberal donations of vegetables, etc., have been received from interested parties. They are very acceptable to the management.

—Regents' examination will be held in the public schools, next week.

PRESENTED WITH A SILVER TROWEL

The Academy Pupils' Gift for Use at the Academy Corner Stone Laying.

Upon invitation, the Board of Education was present at the temporary academy on Wickham avenue at about close of school, yesterday.

Mr. Claude Crane, president of the graduating class of '96, stepped upon the platform, and presented a silver trowel, making the following neat address:

Mr. President and Members of the Board of Education:

We are proud of our city and proud of its schools. Whatever has been done and whatever is yet to be done by you in advancing the interests of education, although a benefit to the entire community, we recognize the fact that its advantages come most directly to us, the pupils.

For some of us, our scholarship here is about completed. It is the privilege and pleasure of the graduating class to congratulate the classes to succeed it, year after year and year after year, upon the improved opportunities and more complete arrangements for school work that are in store for them. And, Mr. President and gentlemen, we desire to express our appreciation of this fact, and to congratulate you and the public, which has so nobly and so generously sustained you in your efforts, that a new academy, or high school, is in process of construction that will not only be an ornament to the city, but will rank foremost among the leading structures of the kind in the State. As you are about to lay the corner stone of this new and beautiful structure, we, the pupils of Wallkill Academy, present you with this trowel, asking you that it be used on that occasion.

President Henry W. Wiggins accepted the gift in behalf of the Board of Education, thanking the class and the students, expressing his pleasure at the interest they manifested in the new school building and hoping that the day of laying the corner stone would be a memorable one and enjoyable to them all.

The trowel is very handsome, of solid silver, rosewood handle and will be used to-morrow in laying the corner stone of the new building.

TURKEY'S CAPITAL.

Some Fresh Facts About the City of the Golden Horn.

Past and Present Aspect of the Great Metropolis of the Mohammedans—The Population and Principal Buildings of the City.

Now that public attention is so keenly drawn to the almost anarchic state of Turkey, the following particulars of the capital of the Ottoman empire will be of interest: Byzantium, Islamboul, or Constantinople as the place has been variously called, is situated at the junction of the Bosphorus and the Sea of Marmora, and may be said to be composed of three distinct towns, viz., Stamboul, Pera-Galata and Scutari.

The two first named are on the European shore, and are divided by the creek called the Golden Horn, while Scutari lies on the Asiatic side, and is separated from them by the Bosphorus. Stamboul, or Constantinople proper, occupies the site of ancient Byzantium, and, like ancient Rome, is built on seven hills. On the first of these are the Old Seraglio and the famous mosque of Santa Sophia. Stamboul lies on a triangular promontory washed by the waters of the Golden Horn on the north, and by the limpid Sea of Marmora on the south, while the swift current of the Bosphorus flows past its eastern front.

Scutari, although a suburb of Constantinople, is practically a separate town, the distance across the water being about two miles. It largely resembles Stamboul, both externally and internally, with its numerous mosques, its bazaars, public baths and manufactories. It will be remembered chiefly by English readers on account of its hospital having been used by the Anglo-French army in the winter of 1854-5 and by reason of its beautiful English cemetery with its monument to the heroes of the Crimean campaign. Its population is now about 600,000 that of the whole capital being about 1,500,000.

Stamboul is the native city, and contains most of the government and public buildings. Here are situated for instance, the sublime porte (a gateway of justice, from which the government of Turkey takes its name), the war office, the seraglio, the law courts, the railway station, the custom house, the mosques of Santa Sophia and countless others; the mint and museums, the Yeni, and the Egyptian bazaars. The landward side of the city of Theodosius, rebuilt in 447 A. D., and now in a ruinous state.

Pera-Galata is the European or Christian town, and the center of business, the Imperial, Ottoman and other banks, the exchange, and steamship and merchants' offices being in Galata. Most of the embassies are situated on the hill of Pera. The principal street of Constantinople where all the European shops are, is the Grande Rue de Pera, and the next in importance is the Rue Tope Tachi, along which the Pera-Galata trams run, and where the best hotels, the British embassy and the Petits Champs Municipality gardens are situated. The Yildiz Kiosk, where at present the sultan resides, is practically in the country, about four miles from the sublime porte. The palace is surrounded by barracks, where a large force of the Imperial Guards is quartered, and no strangers are allowed to enter the gates.

The Golden Horn—La Corne d'Or, Tryso Keras—call it what you will, the name of the classic waterway is one with which to conjure. That its greater glory is now gone is not to be disputed; that it still remains the most interesting strip of water in the world is as little to be denied. On one side of it rises a goodly line of mosques, those of Santa Sophia, Sultan Mahmoud, Sultan Selim, Sultan Bajazet, of Sultan Mahomed conqueror of the Christians—who shall say how many more? Up the heights on the further shore climb the palaces of the foreign ambassadors, that of Britain, as is meet and right, standing above them all.

Crouching down by the water's edge are the arsenal and the admiralty, barracks and custom houses, prisons and powder magazine, ever one who wishes to pile up a block of government buildings seeks a site for it on the shores of the Golden Horn. Until 60 years ago, those who wished to cross the Horn called up a kaik or waited for a ferry boat, then it occurred to the sultan, Mahoud II. that a permanent way might be an advantage. Accordingly he structured the grand admiral—no less important an official as custom an of the Golden Horn—and bade him see the thing should be done, the sultan adding significantly that he need to survey the undertaking in person at a second date. George a Greek took the work in hand and did it well, as his bond attested, which the way was baptized in the name "Nos-ki-oi" (the benediction). From sunset to sunrise throughout the year it was declared that this bridge should remain open, while during the feast of Bairam free passage is allowed three days out the night, that the followers of Allah may visit mosques at their own time.—St. James' Budget.

More Time Was Needed.

A good story is told of an American pilgrim visiting Oxford. On his tour of the colleges nothing struck him so much as the velvety turf in one of the quadrangles. He asked for the gardener, and made minute inquiries as to the method of laying down and maintaining the grass. "That's all, is it?" he exclaimed, when the whole process had been carefully described. "Yes, sir," replied the gardener, with a twinkle in his eye, "that's all, but we generally leave it three or four centuries to settle in."—Pearson's Weekly.

—One of the mistakes in the conduct of human life is to suppose that other men's opinions are to make us happy.—Burton.

In Our Great Grandfather's Time.

big bulky pills were in general use. Like the "blunderbuss" of that decade they were big and clumsy, but ineffective. In this century of enlightenment, we have Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which cure all liver, stomach and bowel derangements in the most effective way.

Assist Nature a little now and then, with a gentle, cleansing laxative, thereby removing offending matter from the stomach and bowels, toning up and invigorating the liver and quickening its tardy action, and you thereby remove the cause of a multitude of distressing diseases, such as headaches, indigestion, or dyspepsia, biliousness, pimples, blotches, eruptions, boils, constipation, piles, fistulas and maladies too numerous to mention.

If people would pay more attention to properly regulating the action of their bowels, they would have less frequent occasion to call for their doctor's services to subdue attacks of dangerous diseases.

That, of all known agents to accomplish this purpose, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are unequaled, is proven by the fact that once used, they are always in favor. Their secondary effect is to keep the bowels open and regular, not to further constipate, as is the case with other pills. Hence, their great popularity, with sufferers from habitual constipation, piles and indigestion.

A free sample of the "Pellets," (4 to 7 doses) on trial, is mailed to any address, post-paid, on receipt of name and address on postal card.

Let The Whole World Know The Good Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Does

HEART DISEASE, has its victim at a disadvantage. Always taught that heart disease is incurable, when the symptoms become well defined, the patient becomes alarmed and a nervous panic takes place. But when a sure remedy is found and a cure effected, after years of suffering, there is great rejoicing and desire to "let the whole world know." Mrs Laura Wineinger, of Selkirk, Kansas, writes, "I desire to let the whole world know what Dr. Miles' Heart Cure has done for me. For ten years I had pain in my heart, shortness of breath, palpitation, pain in my left side, oppressed feeling in my chest, weak and hungry spells, bad dreams, could not lie on either side, was numb and suffered terribly. I took Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and before I finished the second bottle I felt its good effects. I feel now that I am fully recovered, and that Dr. Miles' Heart Cure saved my life."

A LAKE DISCOVERED IN AFRICA.

French Explorers Find a Hitherto Unknown Body of Water Near Timbuctoo.

Although the occupation of Timbuctoo by the French has not yet added materially to the volume of France's colonial trade, it has unquestionably added very greatly to our knowledge of the geography of that part of Africa, and in particular has resulted in a discovery of singular interest and importance.

Timbuctoo, as all the world knows, stands on the boundary line between the Sahara and the western Soudan, a little to the north of the great Niger bend, but what was not known was the existence in the immediate neighborhood of the city, and lying somewhat to the west, of a series of lakes and marshes covering a large area of country. These great sheets of water were first seen by the Joffre column and have since been explored by French officers stationed in the neighborhood, who have laid down their general outlines with some approach to accuracy.

The most important of these lakes is called Lake Faguibure, and runs in a direction, roughly, east and west, its total length being some 60 or 70 miles. A couple of similar sheets of water connect with the Niger, and there are other lakes in the neighborhood. As might be supposed these lakes are the center of a rich agricultural and pastoral district. Crops of various kinds are grown in abundance, and the natives have large flocks and herds. Perhaps the most curious feature of the discovery is the fact that neither Barth nor Dr. Laz appear to have heard of this fertile region, and it is to be presumed that the guides deliberately led them away from the direction of the lakes. The news of this discovery will no doubt revive the interest in the occupation of Timbuctoo in France, where, after the first enthusiasm was over, there was a marked tendency to criticise—a tendency rather strengthened than weakened by the recent troubles with the Touaregs. The results of observations on the climate of that part of Africa established, it is said, the perfect feasibility of Europeans living there the whole year round with certain precautions. The months of April and May are said to be the most trying, not only for Europeans, but for natives, but December and January are so cool that a great coat is sometimes welcome, and the natives report that one year ice formed—at least this is the deduction drawn from the native statement that "the marsh became stone."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Waits Long for a Drink.

On Laurel hill in Bridgeton, N. J., here stands a house between whose walls is hidden a quart bottle of the purest applejack. The bottle has rested there for 50 years, and has, according to the old story told, eleven years more to stay. When the house was built, 50 years ago, a quart bottle was filled with "jack" and tightly sealed and plastered in the wall by a man who had the house built. The bottle is not to be taken from its dark recess until the son of the man who placed it there for him becomes 50 years of age. The "boy" is now 50 years of age, and in all these years has kept true to the promise made in the days of his youth to his father not to touch the bottle of applejack until he reaches the half-century mark in life's journey.

C. R. Truesdale No. 108 North St., says: "When you find out a good thing that would be of no loss to you if you should tell your friends, push it along in keeping with its merits. That is what Mr. C. T. Truesdale is doing as he goes the rounds delivering the orders of Messrs. Harford & Barton purveyors of the general public of meat, game and fish. Mr. Truesdale, who is out with the delivery wagon every morning and engaged in the shop every afternoon, has ample opportunity to advertise the remedy that cured his back. He does it in his own peculiar way using as a text the following statement. "For 4 or 5 years my kidneys have bothered me. Pain in the lower part of the back and in one side proved this. It is possible it arose from a strain while lifting because I frequently exert myself in that way. Often in the morning I could hardly get out of bed my back was so painful and stiff. If I caught cold I was always worse for it settled in my back. Stooping over or occupying any position that strained my back hurt me. I tried every remedy I knew about, and lots prescribed by friends. They were useless. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills procuring them at J. E. Mills' drug store. They cured me. I never felt better in my life. Doan's Kidney Pills deserve all the credit for it. I shall do all I can to tell others of their merits and the personal benefit I have received."

M. E. DANIELS.

DANIELS & MOULE Eye Specialists,

have placed permanently the three front rooms in the Wilcox Building, 57 North street, Middletown, N. Y., which have been exactly fitted up exclusively as OPTICAL PARLORS, which are now open to the public. With 21 years of experience we feel justified in saying that we will merit the patronage of the citizens of Middletown and vicinity. The eye is a delicate organ, and imperfectly fitted glasses do injury that never can be repaired. Don't spend your money here you have to pay for cards or be prize hose who are here to-day and elsewhere—[illegible] row. Parties need attention after being fitted with glasses free. If your glasses trouble you or have headaches come and have them examined. Headache, nervousness, dizziness nearly in every case caused by defective vision and can be relieved by properly adjusted glasses. Our specialty. Visual Immersion. Astigmatism in all stages successfully treated. Eye strain, if curable or no money accepted. Free examination entails no obligation on your part. Remember us, if you desire reliable goods and our prices will be the very lowest. When persons call at our rooms examined they expect to find nearly fitted up rooms, free from [illegible] or other people's eyes and at our parlors. We carry the largest stock of optical goods in all the latest designs. Delays are dangerous. Come to-day, to-morrow may never come. Try us and save money. Patients living [illegible] can visit either our Newburgh or Middletown offices.

THE People of the State of New York to Joseph W. Merrill, Edward [illegible] Chamberlain, Lizzie Weber, Mrs. Harriet Lowry [illegible] Adams, Sarah Ann Hall, Mary Ann Hall and Mary Smedley, late of the city of Middletown, in the county of Orange, greeting:

You and each of you are hereby cited personally to be and appear before the surrogate of said county of Orange, at the office, in Goshen, in said county, on the 15th day of June, 1896 at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to attend the probate of a certain instrument in writing, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, bearing date the 3rd day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-six, on the application of Thomas Wairy, willing to the executors therein named, and to have the will proved and recorded, and letters testamentary issued thereon, pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, and to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted.

And that if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years they are required to appear by guardian, and if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed; or in the event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said surrogate's office to be hereunto affixed. Witness Hon. Abraham P. Howell, surrogate of our said county of Orange, at Goshen, in said county, the 27th day of April, A. D., 1896.

Robbery of Life as Well as Money

One of the Worst of Modern Swindles—Stones for Sufferers Who Want Bread.

If a doctor should prescribe candy and other sweets for each young girl who came under his professional care, he would probably be called by these patients at least, "an elegant doctor."

If your child was desperately ill, and you knew that only some nauseous mixture would effect a cure, you certainly would not hesitate to give it, simply because of its taste. Suppose the druggist would think only of pleasing your child and should give you some mixture of honey, only labeling it with the name of the disagreeable remedy! What would you think of such a man? You would say he was willing to risk the life of the child simply for the sake of pleasing.

We all know what wonderful power cod-liver oil has over a number of diseases. It is also well known that no human skill can completely remove all its peculiar taste. Yet there are a few unscrupulous manufacturers who are so anxious to have a perfectly "tasteless" mixture, that they will leave out the cod-liver oil. They label their bottles as some "tasteless cod-liver oil," and yet there is not a particle of oil present. That is why it is tasteless. They believe you have confidence in their statements, and so are perfectly willing to deceive you if only they can sell their goods. Is such a course anything but a criminal one?

A perfectly tasteless preparation of cod-liver oil cannot be made. We have been making emulsions for twenty years, and we can speak with authority. The nearest approach to it is found in Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites. This preparation contains the very best cod-liver oil with nearly all the fishy taste removed. Only a trace of it remains: enough to be detected, but not enough to make the mixture disagreeable even to the most sensitive stomach. This is why sick people find no trouble in taking Scott's Emulsion, and it also explains why so many persons recover their health under its use.

Nearly twenty-five years ago the proprietors of Scott's Emulsion discovered a process of emulsifying or partially digesting cod-liver oil, so as to remove from it almost entirely its offensive fishy taste and smell, and at the same time increasing its flesh and remedial properties. They found also that by combining the Hypophosphites with it that they added still further to its power.

Since that time thousands of imitations have come into the field, but the original has never been equalled in its great strengthening, healing and flesh producing powers. The medical profession have obtained results from it previously unequalled by any other remedial agent.

PECULIAR ROBBERIES.

Cabs, Elephants, Wagons and Even Houses Stolen by Bold Thieves.

Now and again it happens that a genius in crime arises who considers the ordinary robbery unworthy of his abilities, and therefore he goes in for removing articles of an extraordinary nature. For example, take the man who stole the coffee stall the other day. It was a nice coffee stall, replete with urns, cups and saucers, plates, knives and forks and spoons, and a good supply of comestibles, ranging from shop eggs to lumps of cake cut with mathematical precision.

The stall stood before its owner's home, and behind some old railings of iron and wood. The full audacity of the robbery will be realized on learning that the thief did not take down the railings or even wait for a suitable time. He just selected a moment when the proprietor was out of the way, and then took out the stall at six o'clock in the evening, just as the owner was in the habit of doing when about to set up his traveling coffee shop near a large gas factory a mile or two away. The perpetrator of this extraordinary robbery was detected through the agency of a friend of the real proprietor who partook of refreshments at the stall.

Quite recently there have been two or three cases recorded in the papers of cab stealing; this we can quite understand, for a horse and cab is a marketable property, wherewith one can earn a decent living. But what shall be said of the man who stole an elephant? This same elephant escaped from a circus procession that was wending its way through the streets of a suburb of Liverpool. The great animal wandered for many miles and eventually stopped at a farm, the proprietor whereof promptly annexed the valuable brute, and was foolish enough to sell it to the next circus proprietor that chanced to be in the vicinity. The farmer's reason for getting rid of the elephant was the prodigious quantity of food the animal consumed. We need hardly say that the whole silly proceeding ended in the conviction of the farmer, though he got off with three months' imprisonment.

There are at least two cases on record of a man stealing a house. One of these was a portable corrugated iron structure, which ran on wheels and belonged to a great contractor, whose manager used it as a pay box, while the other was an ordinary semi-detached suburban residence. How could such a house be stolen? Well, the alleged thief simply took possession of it, put himself in a state of siege, and then set the owner at defiance. After a long and most exasperating course of law proceedings the real owner recovered his house and the claimant was dislodged.

Horses and vans have been stolen, of course; so have whole houses of furniture, if we may use the term. The latter unique robbery is worked in this way: A householder going abroad will perhaps warehouse his furniture at some well-known repository, and the thieves will contrive to impersonate him, and in many cases get possession of the whole of his household goods.—Amusing Journal.

THE SPANISH CAMPAIGN.

Despite Constant Victories It Was a Disastrous Failure.

The French interests in Spain were left in a most deplorable condition. The populace of Madrid received the hero of Torcaje with cries of hate, and shut themselves up in their houses instead of forming a crowd or crowding any coaches that were in the streets. They would not come out to see the great military parade which was arranged for their benefit. The gentry and nobility were alike distant and cold. It was clear that Spain could neither be wheedled, cajoled, nor threatened into a positive acquiescence in the new conquest. It was essential, therefore, that another course should be tried.

On December 4 Napoleon, in the role of reformer-statesman, promulgated a series of the most thoroughgoing edicts. All feudal privileges, all interprovincial customs dues, were swept away; the Inquisition was abolished, and the number of convents was reduced to a third. These measures were in themselves most salutary, and struck at the very root of the upas tree under the baneful shade of which Spain had been slowly perishing. But to do good they must be enforced, there must be a complete military conquest of the country, and a capable administration.

There was neither. The Spanish army had been defeated, but, so to speak, had been its punishment, its resources was not destroyed; the occupation of the country was also really incomplete, and it made no difference whether French soldiers marched, or countermarched, on the roads they held, some kind of Spanish fighting force, no matter how irregular, sprang up behind them and on their sides. The complete military consolidation of Prussia had made it hard even for the whole loose-jointed territory of that United States of Spain and the local independence of her peoples made regular victories utterly fruitless so far as the open country was concerned.—W. M. [illegible] in Century.

SMITH'S BIDDY BEANS

SAVED HER LIFE.

J. F. Smith & Co., 255 Greenwich St., N. Y.: With pleasure I testify to the merits of your celebrated "Biddy Beans." It gave her Rest at once and she was able to walk about in three days. I am sure it saved her life." Sold by J. E. Mills, Druggist, Middletown.

A Short Cut to Health.

To try to cure constipation by taking pills is like going round in a circle. You will never reach the point sought, but only get back to the starting point. A perfect natural laxative is Bacon's Celery King, the celebrated remedy for all nerve, blood, stomach, liver and kidney diseases. It regulates the bowels. J. J. Chambers, 57 North street, near Post Office.

If You Will Use a Little Reasoning

and not be influenced by the claim that cannot use blood of sense, you can easily prove that catarrh is climatic. Have you not the severest catarrhal attacks during winter and spring, and have you but little evidence of catarrh during the summer? Yes. Well, this proves it is a climatic disorder, inflaming the membrane of the nasal passages. It is a waste of time and money to invest in blood remedies. The proper treatment is a local application, and the most prompt to relieve that popular remedy, Ely's Cream Balm.

A Note From the Editor.

The editor of a Michigan daily paper writes: "If you had seen my wife last June and were to see her to-day you would not believe she was the same woman. Then one was broken down by nervous debility and suffered terribly from constipation and sick headache. Bacon's Celery King for the nerves made her a well woman in one month." John J. MADE A GOOD SHOWING.

Many State Hospital Attendants Pass the Nurses' Examination.

From the Conglomerate

Out of the 32 attendants who tried the State examination for nurses, Dr. Talcott has been informed that 27 passed and will later receive their diplomas.

This is certainly a fine showing and speaks well for the intelligence and assiduity of our nurses as well as for the zeal and care given them in instruction by our able corps of physicians.

"As a back was lying in my stomach" is the description by a dyspeptic of his condition after eating.

This is one of the commonest symptoms of indigestion. If you have it, take Shaker Digestive Cordial.

Not only this symptom, but all the symptoms of indigestion are cured by Shaker Digestive Cordial.

Some foods require this one discovery only one that can be called successful by the only one that acts in a scientific and yet scientific way. Shaker Digestive Cordial.

Pleasant to take, and containing no deleterious ingredients, Shaker Digestive Cordial tones up the stomach, and restores to healthful the digestive organ.

FARM VALUES IN ORANGE COUNTY

The Story of the N. J. Mills Farm Near Crawleyville—Though Greatly Improved it Sells for the Same Price Paid for it Fifty Years Ago.

Crawleyville correspondence of Goshen Independent.

The sale of the Nathan J. Mills farm breaks up another old home in the neighborhood, and records a fact for history. It has had but four owners until this last change, so its record is easily traced. Soon after the town of Wallkill was formed, a Mr. Taylor, of New York, bought a patent of 700 acres. James Morrison bought about 200 acres of this patent, which he occupied many years. He built a new house, which was quite a grand building for its day, and that house was torn down in 1871, being then the oldest occupied dwelling in the town. He sold the farm to Phineas Hulse, and moved West. Mr. Hulse owned it many years, but did not live upon it himself. Mr. James Baker was his tenant for ten years.

Mr. Hulse died, and in 1849 his heirs sold the farm to N. J. Mills for $40 per acre. It was then in quite a wild state, with the old, commodious house and outbuildings in a dilapidated condition. Mr. Mills was then young, just married to an estimable woman, and he had many charms and expectations. Being very industrious, which he inherited from his ancestors, he set to work to improve his new purchase, and early and late he could be found at his post of duty. He cultivated the fields, making them productive where they had been barren; built and changed the fences, so arranging the fields not only to be convenient for use, but at the same time to make them look well. In 1855 he built the house which was his home for 40 years. (This was the third dwelling which had been built upon the farm.) His outbuildings were rebuilt, and at the time of his death in 1895, his farm was called in excellent condition.

The farm has now passed from the family, and with all his labor and improvements only brought them $40 per acre, just the sum he paid for it nearly fifty years ago. His son Frank bought an adjoining farm for his new home, which was once owned by Felix Randall, father of Sheriff Randall, deceased. It comprises 118 acres, and in the days of George Houston, grandfather of D. D. Houston, of Middletown, it was considered the most reliable farm to produce seed grain from, as it yielded no foul weed, and Mr. Randall was thought to be a very careful farmer. The farmers miles around would go there for seed grain, especially seed wheat. Since then it has depreciated, and is now in such a condition that it will take time and money to make such repairs as the fences demand. Frank bought it at the low figure of $1,725, which is less than $15 per acre. The two sides show you the difference now and 50 years ago in the farms and farmers.

A LETTER FROM GABE TUTHILL.

Deriving Much Benefit from the Baths at Mount Clemens—In the Path of a Cyclone.

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., June 7, 1896.

EDITORS ARGUS:—We arrived here on May 21st. I was in very bad shape, for the long ride of two days and nights was almost too much for me. I did not take any baths until the following day, and have taken them every day since. They are doing me more good than the Arkansas Springs did.

If I could hope the improvement would be permanent I should be glad indeed, but I have given up expecting that. I shall continue to take a bath each day as long as I stay here, unless the cyclones blow us away. The one that visited this city, some days ago, was a hot one, but it did its damage at the south end of the town, about half a mile from us; but we felt a little of it, for it blew down several trees in our vicinity.

The next morning we drove over the grounds, following the path of the storm, which was about one-fourth of a mile wide and seven miles long. Scarcely a building or tree was left standing in its path. It was the first time I ever went over the trail of a cyclone, and I hope it will be the last.

The majority of the homes in the city that were destroyed were owned by the poorer class of people, and in all about thirty houses were completely or partially destroyed. About one-third of them were blown to pieces and scattered in every direction. It was a sorrowful sight to see the women and children sitting together with what furniture they had picked up, and instinctively one's hand would find its way to his pocket and furnish the means for them to buy something to eat, and later one would subscribe what one could afford to give to the mind to help put a shelter over their heads.

It is impossible for me to describe the scene of wreck and ruin more fully, for one must see it to understand all the horrors of such a calamity.

My hands and arms are still so nervous that I can hardly write, or you would have heard from me before. I will try and write you again next week.

UP THE MIDLAND.

The Short Hay Crop and the Haymakers—All Sorts of Troubles—Corn the Farmers' Only Hope—Some of the Absurdities of Lactometer Milk Tests.

Correspondence of ARGUS and MERCURY.

—For many years past, working in the hayfields of Delaware county has been the means of putting a great many dollars in the pockets of Sullivan county people, who are willing to work. This was all changed, last year, and many who in former years had been paid $2.50 a day were glad to take $1.50 and this year their services will not be in demand at any price owing to the short crop.

—George Hulbert, of the town of Fremont, was a juror in the case of George Brethauer, who, about a year ago, drew a revolver and blew his father-in-law's brains out and was pronounced not guilty by a jury of his peers. No sooner did Mr. Hulbert get home from wrestling with the Brethauer case than he began proceedings against one Sherman Francisco, of Cooks Falls, for criminally assaulting his two daughters. Verily man is born to trouble as sure as the sparks fly upwards.

—The old saying that "its an ill wind that blows nobody good" is again verified by the short grass crop, as the fertilizer manufacturers are reaping a rich harvest from the farmers being compelled to sow so much corn for fodder. A good crop of corn is the only hope now left to eke out the short hay crop. The time was when grass was king in the Up-Midland counties, but drought and grasshoppers have brought about the change.

To corn all eyes are now directed
Since grass, considered, we have detected,
Then let us toil and gaily sing,
All hail to corn, and corn is king

—At some of the Delaware county butter making factories the patrons were paid for May two cents a quart for milk that showed a butter test of 4.6 per cent. Anything higher or lower was paid for at that ratio. Notwithstanding the low price for butter it will be seen that the above are better prices for the right kind of milk than that furnished by the Consolidated Milk Exchange. It is a well known fact that the richer the milk the lower will be the test on the lactometer and when the New York Board of Health started in, last September, to better the quality of the milk that city received it did not build as well as it knew. I could, if I chose, name a Orange county farmer who prides himself on his herd of pure blood Jersey cows that will show a butter test higher than that above named, and who had samples of his milk taken at two different times by a thick-skulled milk inspector. I could give you the names of many farmers who, last fall, when their pastures were short and eaten up by grasshoppers and the cows were compelled to subsist on brush and weeds, had to remove some of the cream in order to have their milk show a lactometer test as required by the New York State law. The present method of testing milk for its purity only tends to make dishonest creamerymen and dealers. It was only last September that a committee of dealers went before justice Jerome in New York city and pleaded with him to consider milk as pure that showed three per cent. butter fat. In all complaints to which the human family are subject it is a well known fact that the cause removed, the cure is easy, and the moment the required standard of butter fats is reduced up goes the lactometer and the intelligent (?) milk inspector, who holds his position through political influence, and in consequence is an able and efficient member of the bread and butter brigade, is ready to swear that the milk is all right. The New York Board of Health is probably all right in its intentions and is doing its best to give the people a pure article of milk, and it is the hope of everyone that they may succeed in their almost herculean task.

TWO DIVISION RUNS ON THE ERIE

Locomotives of First-class Trains Ordered to Run Between Jersey City and Susquehanna.

An order was issued from the Erie's general offices, yesterday, that the engines of first-class trains shall hereafter run through between Jersey City and Susquehanna. Heretofore engines have been changed at Port Jervis. The order affects four trains each way and it is expected that an order will soon issue requiring engineers and firemen to run through, as conductors now do.

If such an order should be issued it would necessitate the removal of a number of families from Port Jervis to either Susquehanna or Jersey City.

The change is made by Vice-President W. F. Merrill, who came from the West, where locomotives are run over two or three divisions and it can be done successfully there he sees no reason why it cannot also be done on the Erie.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Will cure the worst forms of female complaints, all ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb, and consequent spinal weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the change of life.

Every time it will cure Backache.

It has cured more cases of leucorrhœa by removing the cause, than any remedy the world has ever known; it is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors. Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills work in unison with the Compound, and are a sure cure for constipation and sick headache. Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash is of great value for local application.

NINETY-FIVE OUT OF A HUNDRED

Stores that do anything but a cash business are ground to death by the credit juggernaut of failure. Manufacturers and jobbers frequently sell seasonable stuff at less than "value," to "cash men," when the note is due at the bank at 3 o'clock. Ours is a cash store from A to Z. These goods were bought at less than value, that's why we are selling them for less than they are worth.
